

■ For each sentence below, please choose which adjective you think is correct, either past participle or present participle.

- Q1. He seemed very (tired/tiring) after the marathon.
- Q2. That film was so (bored/boring) —it seemed to last for hours!
- Q3. You seem very (exciting/excited) today —is something happening?
- Q4. She was not (amusing/amused) by my rude behaviour.
- Q5. This rainy weather is so (depressed/depressing)! It's as bad as being in Manchester!
- Q6. Don't be (embarrassing/embarrassed), it wasn't your fault.
- Q7. A nice, (relaxed/relaxing) bath will help you forget the bad day you've had.
- Q8. These adjectives are very (confused/confusing)
- Q9. We were (surprising/surprised) by the party —we weren't ready for it.
- Q10. They were (upsetting/upset) by the noisy neighbours.

ANSWERS

- A1. He seemed very tired after the marathon.
- A2. That film was so boring —it seemed to last for hours!
- A3. You seem very excited today —is something happening?
- A4. She was not amused by my rude behaviour.
- A5. This rainy weather is so depressing! It's as bad as being in Manchester!
- A6. Don't be embarrassed, it wasn't your fault.
- A7. A nice, relaxing bath will help you forget the bad day you've had.
- A8. These adjectives are very confusing.
- A9. We were surprised by the party —we weren't ready for it.
- A10. They were upset by the noisy neighbours.