

■ Rellena los huecos en las siguientes frases Q1–Q10 utilizando las palabras a, b o c.

Q1. The meeting ran much longer than expected and so we ended up missing the bus and had to call a taxi.

- a) in b) on c) out

Q2. I miss my grandson now he has moved overseas. He often used to drop to see me after work.

- a) in b) out c) down

Q3. You can save a surprising amount of electricity just by remembering to switch electrical devices after using them.

- a) on b) of c) off

Q4. Charles was annoyed that he had put his suit for the meeting because everybody else showed up wearing casual clothes.

- a) in b) up c) on

Q5. The space station broke on re-entry to the planet's atmosphere.

- a) up b) off c) out

Q6. I went to pick my outfit from the dry cleaner's on my way to the airport.

- a) out b) at c) up

Q7. NATO stands North Atlantic Treaty Organisation.

- a) for b) off c) on

Q8. Prices in the shops usually come after Christmas.

- a) off b) down c) out

Q9. My brother Brian got into a very well-known university but dropped after his first term and ended up joining the Army.

- a) in b) out c) down

Q10. Although Jeremy's arrogance can get me at times, there is no denying that he is the best analyst in the department.

- a) at b) to c) over

ANSWERS

- Q1. The meeting ran on much longer than expected and so we ended up missing the bus and had to call a taxi.
- Q2. I miss my grandson now he has moved overseas. He often used to drop in to see me after work.
- Q3. You can save a surprising amount of electricity just by remembering to switch off electrical devices after using them.
- Q4. Charles was annoyed that he had put his suit on for the meeting because everybody else showed up wearing casual clothes.
- Q5. The space station broke up on re-entry to the planet's atmosphere.
- Q6. I went to pick my outfit up from the dry cleaner's on my way to the airport.
- Q7. NATO stands for North Atlantic Treaty Organisation.
- Q8. Prices in the shops usually come down after Christmas.
- Q9. My brother Brian got into a very well-known university but dropped out after his first term and ended up joining the Army.
- Q10. Although Jeremy's arrogance can get to me at times, there is no denying that he is the best analyst in the department.